5 STEPS TO VIEWING ACN, ATN, 3ABN AND LLBN

STEP 1—Determine where to place your dish. In North America dishes have to point south. City codes and home owner associations may require you to install this out of sight, but they CANNOT prevent you from installing this size dish at your home, church or business.

STEP 2—Determine which equipment package you want to order. Visit www.acn.info for details.

STEP 3—Order your system. Allow about 4 weeks to receive your equipment. The dish comes in a large box about 40" X 36". Installed dish is 36" x 30".

STEP 4—Install your equipment. Instructions are included.

- Assemble Dish hardware
- Point dish in right direction
- Run cable from dish to receiver

Hundreds of home owners have installed this equipment on their own. We can also connect you with professional installers in your area.

STEP 5—Sit back and scroll through the channels to find the programs you want on four Adventist networks.

ORDER DETAILS

Because of the large size for the shipping box, ACN cannot accept returns. Please make sure this item meets your needs before you place your order. We will be glad to answer any questions at 800-ACN-1119, #3.

ACN sells only in the North America Division area.

Glossary

SATELLITE A satellite is a communication device located in space. Each satellite has a specific position and name. ACN uses a satellite at 101 degrees West named AMC 4. This is located almost 23,000 miles over the equator and south of western Kansas.

DISH Dish is a layman's term for satellite antenna. ACN sells an 85-90 cm dish which is about 36" x 30" when installed.

LNBF This is a small device that attaches to the front of the dish. It captures the satellite signal and passes it into the Receiver. In large dish systems this is called the Ku LNB.

DIGITAL RECEIVER ACN offers an inexpensive receiver as part of its Viewers Choice package. A simple channel change will receive the ACN, ATN, 3ABN and LLBN networks. Other receivers are also available. The receiver connects to your TV or VCR

NETWORKS A network is a channel or group of channels from the same programming organization. You can receive the following networks with the ACN system. (See the August ACN News Bulletin for information about each network.)

ACN—Adventist Communication Network

ATN—Adventist Television Network

3ABN—Three Angels Broadcasting Network

LLBN—Loma Linda Broadcasting Network

LifeTalk Radio

PVR RECEIVER The Personal Video Recorder is a combination receiver and internal hard drive recorder. The HD recorder operates similar to a VCR without the tape. An 80 GB PVR will hold about 40 hours of programming.

EQUIPMENT PACKAGE A group of equipment that enables you to tune in the above networks. Each package uses the same dish and LNBF.
